The Importance of

Hydrogen Therapy for COVID-19 Infection

Hydrogen as a medical gas is growing rapidly because it has immediate medical applications to help with many of the current health crises.

The scientific research demonstrates that hydrogen has potential to help with the top 8 out of 10 disease-causing fatalities as listed by the Centers of Disease Control.

More interestingly, hydrogen gas is effective in fighting the coronavirus infection. Hydrogen gas therapy attenuates the damage to lung cells by eliminating harmful reactive oxygen/nitrogen species (ROS/RNS) and through the reduction of excessive inflammation.

Hydrogen gas is an anti-apoptotic, anti-inflammatory, anti-oxidative agent, making it also a potent immune booster that helps fight and protect the body from viral infections and diseases. With hydrogen it is possible to naturally enhance your immune system – and easier than you probably think.

Possible Delivery Methods of Hydrogen Gas

Potentially, there are three routes for hydrogen administration in a clinical setting. Drinking hydrogen rich water (HRW), direct inhalation of hydrogen gas, and intravenous infusion of hydrogen-rich saline (HRS).

Drinking Hydrogen Rich Water is one of the Best, Effective and Natural Ways to Enjoy Vibrant Health and Beauty.

Introducing the Powerful Zenii-Active Portable Hydrogen Water Generator.

Now everyone can afford to own a zenii-active, the world's smallest yet strongest portable hydrogen water generator that just weighs 250grams. It will infuse your choice of purified or mineral water with high content of dissolved molecular hydrogen with 1100ppb in only 3 min and up to 1600ppb in 5 min.

Hydrogen Gas Inhalation Therapy

The ability to directly inhale the gas provides an easy to administer, comfortable and affordable treatment option.

It provides highest hydrogen-gas concentration and organ saturation.

The treatment does not require certification and can be administered by the patients in the comfort of their homes. No nursing staff is required.

Hydrogen inhalation therapy is considered a more effective delivery mechanism for patients with moderate/severe symptoms of COVID-19

Meet the Powerful Zenii-Inhale

A revolutionary and impressive way forward in the molecular hydrogen therapy industry.

This inhalation system gives you excess to the most powerful form of hydrogen-gas therapy.

- Advanced patented SPE/PEM hydrogen-gas generation process
- No catalyst required, only pure/distilled water
- Produces 99.999% pure hydrogen-gas
- Produces 99.999% pure oxygen-gas
- Includes all attachments for hydrogen-gas inhalation

Meet the Portable Zenii-Mini Inhale

A revolutionary and impressive way forward in the molecular hydrogen therapy industry.

This inhalation system gives you excess to hydrogen-gas therapy on the go.

- Advanced patented SPE/PEM hydrogen-gas generation process
- No catalyst required, only pure/distilled water
- Produces 99.999% pure hydrogen-gas
- Includes all attachments for hydrogen-gas inhalation

About Zenii Hydrogen Solutions

We are a team of health care professionals interested in helping you discover evidence-based innovative natural therapies to prevent and recover from disease, achieve optimal health, improve and maximize performance and enhance quality of life.

Our mission is to constantly follow the latest science-based research and developments on natural therapies, technologies and equipment and make it available to doctors, physicians and the public.

Our comprehensive range of technologically advanced hydrogen/hydroxy gas therapy devices use the patented electrolysis technology featuring world leading medical concentrations and safety features.

The zenii devices are used in clinics by medical doctors and health care providers and by many private individuals in the comfort of their home.

We welcome anybody to join us in our efforts of making this superior supplement/treatment widely available or to own your own device.

On our website, we provide free access to the latest research and scientific publications on hydrogen therapy including cell, animal, and human studies.

Our technologically advanced hydrogen therapy devices are available from our team of medical doctors and health care providers or on our online store.

We invite health care practitioners and private individuals to learn more about this highly beneficial therapy and join our team.
